... On the State Level

The Long Term Care Quality Improvement Initiative

Department of Health

The New York State Department of Health, through the Long Term Care Quality Improvement Initiative (LTCQII), is dedicated to improving the quality of the nursing home experience in New York State facilities. The LTCQII will support projects of long term care providers and others who will utilize grant monies, in addition to their own funds, to achieve sustainable improvements that will benefit nursing home residents. Applicants are encouraged to look at creative ways to use these funds. Projects must meet at least one of the following objectives which include: improving resident quality of life; improving the quality of care provided; improving the use of data in decision making; and improving cross-provider communication and information sharing. Contracts will be a maximum of 18 months, starting July 1, 2008, in length. Therefore, activities and an evaluation of their effect must be completed within that timeframe.

ELIGIBILITY: All applicants must be currently licensed as a nursing home in New York State, and be certified as a Medicare/Medicaid provider; or if the applicant is not a nursing home, the applicant will have entered into a project that benefits nursing home residents in facilities certified as a Medicare/Medicaid nursing home provider in New York State.

FUNDING: Individual grants of up to $45,000 will be awarded.

DEADLINE: Applications will be accepted on a rolling basis beginning April 11, 2008 through May 5, 2008.

New York Great Lakes Protection

Department of Environmental Conservation

The New York State Department of Environmental Conservation (DEC) is offering state assistance funding to conduct innovative projects that help to protect, conserve, restore, and enhance the Great Lakes resources in New York State. Preferred projects should bring together experts from diverse disciplines to conduct research, data collection and analysis, and public communication that informs or enhances current New York State management issues and processes. Projects should especially focus on the exchange of knowledge in the areas of toxic discharge control and elimination, contaminant remediation, and sustaining and enhancing the health of the basin's floral, fauna and human elements of the Great Lakes ecosystem. Proposed projects must have a high probability of success and benefit the watersheds, communities or natural resources located within the geographic boundaries of New York State's Great Lakes. Projects already receiving funds from other available New York State assistance programs for similar activities are ineligible for funding under this program. The DEC anticipates that a grant project should not exceed a two-year term. Where circumstances beyond a recipient's control necessitate an extension of the project term, the DEC may consider up to two additional one-year term extensions at no additional cost. Applicants should note that this is a reimbursement grant program. It does not allow for any advance payment of funding.

ELIGIBILITY: Not-for-profit organizations and corporations, local municipalities and academic research institutions.

FUNDING: The minimum grant amount will be $15,000 and the maximum will be $100,000.

DEADLINE: April 21, 2008.

FOR MORE INFORMATION: Contact Donald Zelazny, Great Lakes Programs Coordinator, 270 Michigan Avenue, Buffalo, NY 14203-2999, or call (716) 851-7220, e-mail: glakes@gw.dec.state.ny.us.

Supported Housing for Persons with Serious Mental Illness in New York City

Office of Mental Health

This grant is intended to provide access to affordable, independent housing and support services based on the needs of adults with severe and persistent mental illness and who reside in New York City. Funding is available to provide rental assistance and support services, to serve individuals in the target populations which include but are not limited to chronically homeless single adults who have a serious mental illness or who are diagnosed as mentally ill and chemically addicted. Many recipients will be coping with co-occurring substance abuse disorders and be at various stages of recovery. Services provided by the sponsoring agency will vary, depending upon the needs of the recipient. Supported Housing staff should encourage and assist recipients to develop natural community supports, use community resources and pursue an individualized path towards recovery. Staff should also help the individual to establish a household and facilitate the resolution of landlord-tenant issues. It is expected that the need for services provided by the sponsoring agency will decrease over time as the recipient is more fully integrated in the community.

ELIGIBILITY: Not-for-profit organizations which operate in New York City and have experience providing housing and/or mental health services to seriously and persistently mentally ill individuals.

FUNDING: Contact the Office of Mental Health for funding information.
