Fantasy and Mystery

Spaceheadz - by Jon Scieszka, Shane Prigmore, Francesco Sedita. On his first day at Brooklyn’s P.S. 858, fifth-grader Michael K. is teamed with two very strange students. He gradually comes to believe they are aliens who need his help, but he has trouble convincing anyone else of the truth.

When You Reach Me - by Rebecca Stead. Sixth-grader Miranda begins to receive mysterious notes about the future. These notes are eerily reminiscent of her favorite novel, “A Wrinkle in Time.”

Friendship

All the Way Home - by Patricia Reilly Giff. In 1941, circumstances bring together Brick, a boy from New York’s apple country, and Mariel, a young girl made shy by her bout with polio. The two make a journey from Brooklyn to upstate New York to help Brick’s elderly neighbors save their apple crop and to help Mariel learn about her past.

Nothing’s Fair in the Fifth Grade - by Barthe DeClements. This story follows Elsie, who has no friends in school and is disliked by everyone for stealing lunch money until a girl named Jenny befriends her. This is a read full of friendship, the real world, and fifth grade.

Humor

A Fate Totally Worse Than Death - by Paul Fleischman. In this horror novel parody, three self-centered members of Cliffside High School’s ruling clique, who are beginning to age rapidly, become convinced that the beautiful new exchange student is the ghost of the girl whose death they caused the year before.

Historical

You Want Women to Vote, Lizzie Stanton? - by Jean Fritz. Convinced from an early age that women should have the same rights as men, Lizzie embarked on a career that changed America.

Triangle Shirtwaist Factory Fire - by Donna Getzinger. A historical account of the tragic 1911 Triangle Shirtwaist Factory fire, 100 years ago, on the top floors of a Manhattan high-rise that killed 146 factory workers, most of whom were immigrant women.

Sports

Heat - by Mike Lupica. A young Cuban immigrant, Michael Arroyo, is a great little league pitcher in the Bronx. When a rival player’s team questions his age and ability, he is sidelined and the young star athlete cannot help get his team to the Little League World Series.

Bug Boy - by Eric Luper. The setting is Saratoga Springs in the summer of 1934, and 15-year-old Jack is promoted to apprentice jockey – his lifelong dream. With all the pressure to stay in the game, the dream turns out to be more of a nightmare.
