

“Our Long Island environment is facing unprecedented threats.

That’s why I am working hard to protect the air we breathe, the water we drink and our precious environment, now and for generations to come.”

Assemblyman Steve Stern is working hard to protect our precious environment

During the 2021 legislative session, Assemblyman Stern:

- ✓ Received a perfect 100% rating from the New York League of Conservation Voters for his strong commitment to protecting our precious environment
- ✓ Was honored to be appointed Chairman of the New York State Assembly Subcommittee on Renewable Energy, a key leadership position in New York's efforts to deliver clean, affordable and dependable energy and promote the development of the good-paying green jobs workforce of the future
- ✓ Co-sponsored and passed legislation to ensure the safety of our drinking water in schools to protect our children from the devastating effects of lead poisoning contamination
- ✓ Co-sponsored and passed the Family and Firefighter Protection Act to prohibit cancer-causing chemical flame retardants in upholstered furniture, mattresses and electronic displays
- ✓ Passed a state budget that includes vital funding for the Clean Water Infrastructure Act to replace antiquated and dilapidated water systems and ensure the safety of our sole source aquifer
