WE HEARD YOU LOUD AND CLEAR. FROM NEW YORK CITY TO BUFFALO, PUBLIC SAFETY IS ON EVERYONE'S MINDS.

Subways and train stations should be safe and comfortable. Bodega owners shouldn't have to operate in fear of robbery. Families deserve peace of mind that our streets are safe enough for their children.

As part of the recently passed State Budget, changes were made to New York's bail laws to provide judges more clarification on setting bail for certain defendants.<sup>1</sup> This is a crucial step to making our city safe again but more action is needed.

ALEC'S PUBLIC SAFETY PLAN:

- Allow judges to consider a defendant's "dangerousness" when determining pre-trial release (A.3183)
- Combat serial shoplifting at our businesses by strengthening petty larceny charges (A.5029)
- Stronger police presence on our subways and transit systems
- Continue our multi-million-dollar investment in mental health and homeless services (A.3003-D)
