GOVERNOR HOCHUL SIGNS INTO LAW ASSEMBLYMAN SIMCHA EICHENSTEIN'S LEGISLATION PROTECTING HOLOCAUST SURVIVORS

Governor Kathy Hochul signed into law multiple bills honoring and supporting Holocaust survivors in New York State. This includes legislation sponsored by Assemblyman Simcha Eichenstein and Senator Zellnor Y. Myrie which will require the state's Department of Financial Services to publish and annually update a list of banks which have agreed to waive their transaction fees for Holocaust reparation payments. This will ensure that our treasured survivors, many of whom unfortunately live in poverty, are able to avoid paying corporate transaction fees, which can range from $15 to $40 per transaction.

"Our Holocaust survivors are a precious gift and it is incumbent upon us to assist them in any way we can," said Assemblyman Eichenstein. "This bill will ensure that survivors are aware of which banks are waiving fees on reparations payments."

Assemblyman Eichenstein's district includes the largest number of Holocaust survivors in the nation and he is keenly attuned to their needs. "Our elderly survivors who have endured so much should not be charged corporate transaction fees for payments that are rightfully theirs," he said. "They deserve better."

GREAT NEWS FOR HATZOLAH MEMBERS IN NEW YORK CITY!

Legislation sponsored by Senator Simcha Felder and Assemblyman Simcha Eichenstein, which has been signed into law, will allow Hatzolah members and medical first responders to respond more effectively during emergencies, no longer having to worry about incurring traffic violations and fines as they rush to save lives.

When responding to life-threatening emergencies, time is of the essence and every minute counts. Yet Hatzolah members were being slapped with unjust traffic violations while rushing to patients. Now they will be exempt from monetary penalties while responding to an emergency medical call.

“This is a huge win for Hatzolah members as well as all medical first responders,” said Assemblyman Eichenstein, who sponsored this legislation in the State Assembly. “Now, our heroic Hatzolah volunteers can reach patients quickly and efficiently without having to be concerned about potential traffic violations. When it comes to saving a life, every second counts.”

“Hatzolah is grateful to our special and caring representatives in Albany for recognizing this issue that affects their constituents and then following up with all the necessary parties and carrying through to enact positive legislation to answer the need,” said Yehiel Kalish, CEO of Hatzolah. “It’s not just that Assemblyman Eichenstein and Senator Felder care. They care and they act effectively!”

GOVERNOR HOCHUL SIGNS INTO LAW ASSEMBLYMAN SIMCHA EICHENSTEIN’S LEGISLATION ALLOWING TWO SNAP CARDS PER FAMILY

A new law signed by the governor, sponsored by Assemblyman Simcha Eichenstein and Senator Julia Salazar, will make it more convenient for families with two heads-of-household to use their SNAP benefits. The SNAP program will now be required to make two electronic benefits cards available for each household with more than one parent or guardian residing in the home.

“It’s difficult enough when families who receive SNAP benefits must live under the constant pressure of feeding their children,” said Assemblyman Eichenstein. “Now they will no longer have to endure the inconvenience of sharing a card between two heads-of-household. This commonsense legislation is a simple, effective, and practical solution to a frustrating and senseless problem.”

ASSEMBLYMAN EICHENSTEIN AND COUNCILMAN YEGER VISIT CAMP HASC AND CAMP KAYLIE

Summer camp is a wonderful experience for all children, including individuals with special needs. Assemblyman Eichenstein was joined by Councilman Kalman Yeger in visiting both Camp HASC and Camp Kaylie during the summer to show support for special needs children and the institutions that provide them with care.

“Our visit to Camp HASC and Camp Kaylie was an inspiring and uplifting experience,” said Assemblyman Eichenstein. “Every child, no matter their ability, deserves a memorable and incredible summer experience which is only possible thanks to the dedicated staff at these unique camp programs.”

ASSEMBLYMAN SIMCHA EICHENSTEIN’S NEW CONDO BILL EASING RESTRICTIONS ON CONVERSIONS PASSES THE STATE LEGISLATURE

New legislation sponsored by Assemblyman Eichenstein and Senator Andrew Gounardes will make it easier for tenants and apartment dwellers to purchase their homes and will allow small buildings to convert to cooperative or condominium ownership with fewer restrictions.

This new legislation will permit buildings with five or fewer units to convert into co-ops or condos when just fifteen percent of the owners or tenants have agreed to do so. This will have a positive effect on the local real estate market for both landlords and tenants and will encourage landlords to maintain and improve their apartments.

“The current law posed too many restrictions on apartment dwellers and owners of buildings with five units or less,” said Assemblyman Eichenstein. “In my district and elsewhere, this new legislation will create opportunities for hardworking New Yorkers to buy or sell their homes easily. It’s a win-win for everyone involved.”

ASSEMBLYMAN SIMCHA EICHENSTEIN'S HATE CRIME INSURANCE BILL PASSES BOTH HOUSES OF THE LEGISLATURE

New legislation sponsored by Assemblyman Simcha Eichenstein and Senator Anna Kaplan would prohibit insurance companies from canceling or raising their premiums for damages to individuals, religious organizations, or educational institutions that were incurred due to hate crimes.

"Victims of hate crimes should not be victimized a second time due to their insurer's decision refusing to renew their policies or increasing their premiums," said Assemblyman Eichenstein. "This legislation would ensure that their coverage remains intact."
