Weekly Report from Assemblyman Charles D. Fall

May 29, 2020

Updates From Albany

This week, my colleagues in the New York State Legislature and I returned to Albany to pass a multitude of bills focused on COVID-19 Pandemic Relief for NYS residents. We voted on over two dozen bills, three of which I co-sponsored and voted in the affirmative.

As Chair of the Consumer Fraud Protection sub-committee and a member of the Consumer Affairs committee, I voted on these bills:

- A.10270: This bill updates New York's statute regarding the price gouging of consumer goods by expanding it to cover essential medical supplies and services and other goods or services used to promote the health or welfare of the public.

Click here to watch as I state my position on the updates to New York's statute regarding the price gouging of consumer goods.

- A.10522: This bill enacts the "emergency rent relief act of 2020" to establish an interim residential rent relief program.

The specific intent of this legislation is to provide short-term relief to renters who are struggling in the wake of this pandemic, helping to lessen the pandemic's negative effects on all New Yorkers. The legislation also aids property owners who are at risk of falling behind on essential mortgage, tax, insurance and maintenance payments.

Click here to watch as I speak on the urgent need for the NYS Emergency Rent Relief Act.

- A.10523: The purpose of this bill is to establish a COVID-19 presumption to provide accidental death benefits to public employees who reported to work or an alternate worksite and subsequently died due to COVID-19.

While there is great uncertainty about the complexity and extent of this pandemic, it is without a doubt that this pandemic has profoundly altered everyday life for all New Yorkers, especially our frontline workers such as police officers, firefighters, doctors, nurses EMT's, teachers, and sanitation workers. We all realize that those who nobly risk their own well-being to ensure the health, safety, and well-being of others should be fairly compensated for their ultimate sacrifice. Allowing the families of these brave men and women who went to work each day to collect their hard-earned retirement benefits is the very least we can do to honor their sacrifice.

Many of the bills that we passed this week were a step forward in providing relief to New York residents, however, we have more work in the months ahead including strengthening protections for our supermarket, warehouse, convenience store, drugstore, and fast-food employees. The federal government also needs to work urgently to pass effective relief funding.

My Brother's Keeper Read Aloud Service Project

The NYC My Brother's Keeper Fellows program was an initiative created to close and eliminate the opportunity gaps faced by young men of color by supporting them on their journey to reaching their full potential. NYC MBK Fellows attend trainings, conferences and have mentorship opportunities. My office was entrusted to guide one of the four Staten Island MBK fellows, Tristen Butler, a graduating senior from the North Shore who is on track to attend college this fall! This week, all four MBK fellows from Staten Island orchestrated an interactive read-aloud event for over one-hundred elementary students of Public School 78. The fellows chose a unique story written to help young people cope with COVID-19. I am very proud of these four young men for their demonstrated leadership skills and persistent desire to engage with their communities through these difficult times.

It was also my pleasure to host Tristen and his MBK brothers in Albany back in February for the 2020 New York State Association of Black and Puerto Rican Legislators Youth Conference; where they were able to learn how local government affects them and how they can become civically engaged young people. Thank you to Executive Superintendent Anthony Lodico, Superintendent Vincenza Gallassio, Executive Director of Borough Support John Anzalone, P.S 78 Principal Jodi Contento, and P.S 78 Assistant Principal Kamor Olayokun for helping to support these fellows and all of our Staten Island youth.
