Only have minutes to spare? Here's what you need to know:

- I invite you to attend my upcoming State of the District event on Sunday, January 26! Doors at the High School of Art & Design open at noon, and we'll start the program promptly at 1pm. I look forward to seeing you there! Reserve your ticket at bit.ly/sotd-alexbores-2025
- January begins my third legislative session as your Assemblymember. With 16 laws passed so far, I am dedicated to introducing bills that will enhance and assist our community and State. Regardless of what happens in Washington, the work we do continues at both the State and City levels.
- 3-K and Pre-K Applications for the 2025–2026 Class Year are now open (through Friday, February 28). You can apply online at MySchools.nyc, over the phone at 718-935-2009, or by visiting the Family Welcome Center at 333 Seventh Avenue, 12th Floor, Room 1211.

As always, it is my honor to serve you in Albany.

Sincerely,

Alex Bores
Your Assemblymember

LEGISLATION SIGNED INTO LAW

Governor Hochul signed two bills introduced by the Assemblymember

Bill A: The Knickerbocker Greys are a cherished youth group that has called the Park Avenue Armory home for over 120 years. However, they faced eviction through no fault of their own. Thanks to a bill passed by Assemblymember Bores and Senator Krueger, the Greys will be able to stay in their historic home and continue to serve kids from all over NYC.

Bill A10215: Assemblymember Bores is making nights out more affordable. Manhattan has been plagued by predatory bots reselling restaurant reservations at a premium. These bots harm small businesses and make it harder for you to get a table at a restaurant to celebrate a special occasion – but thanks to this bill that Alex wrote, this exploitative practice becomes illegal on February 17.

IN THE COMMUNITY

What a joyful holiday season, filled with community spirit! At the Sutton Place Parks Conservancy Singalong and Light Show, the Murray Hill Neighborhood Association Annual Holiday Party, the Sutton Area Community Tree Lighting, the Chabad Sutton Menorah Lighting, the Fifth Ave Snowflake Lighting and many more events, neighbors came together to share cheer, making this season truly unforgettable!

Historic Knickerbocker Greys youth group spared from UES eviction— but fight might not be over yet

At the Manhattan Chamber of Commerce Annual Meeting, Alex highlighted legislative efforts to improve New York's business environment, such as simplifying regulations, shutting down illegal cannabis shops, speeding up civil trials, and banning reservation bots, all while working to keep New York the commercial capital of the world and make life more affordable.

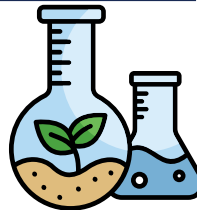

Fund for Modern Courts:

Assemblymember Bores spoke at the Fund for Modern Courts panel about how to make the court system more efficient and more modern. The government can always run more efficiently, including the court system. Inefficiencies in the court system cause extensive social issues, slowing down access to justice for thousands of deserving New Yorkers every year.

Alex had the opportunity to honor Troop 622's newest Eagle Scouts—Riley, Christian, and Bobby—with citations for their outstanding achievements. Their leadership, dedication, and community service set a great example for youth everywhere, earning them the prestigious Eagle Scout rank.

The Assemblymember toured the Hunter College CARSI lab, learning about the lab's contributions to the City, from supporting recovery after 9/11 to advancing flood prevention. The innovative work of the CARSI team will be needed for residency projects in New York and throughout the country.

JUDGE INDUCTIONS

Assemblymember Bores had the privilege of attending several of the myriad inductions for a distinguished group of newly elected judges. Many of their judgeships were created in the last two years because of bills that Assemblymember Bores sponsored and cosponsored. More judges means quicker trials, reducing the burdens on everyone.
