Dear Neighbor,
New York's parole system plays a critical role in our criminal justice landscape. It must be rooted in fairness, equity, and compassion—especially for the survivors and families whose lives were changed forever by crime.

That's why I've introduced a Parole Reform Bill Package that balances justice, transparency, and the rights of crime victims:

Ensuring Every Voice is at the Table

Ensure that among the 19 parole board members, at least one must be a current or former law enforcement officer, and one must be a crime victim or victim's advocate.
(A.4441)

Giving Victims a Seat and a Say

Victims would receive proper notice of parole interviews and be given the clear opportunity to attend and submit impact statements.
(A.5781)

Upholding Sentences for the Most Heinous Crimes

Removes the governor's ability to commute the sentences of individuals serving life without parole for the most grievous offenses.
(A.5800)

Protecting Our Children with Stronger Standards

Expands protection to all minors under 18 that were sexually assaulted or killed.
(A.5783)
