

Community-Centered Education Reform

ASSEMBLYMAN
DAVID DIPIETRO

Listening at the Local Level

Assemblyman David DiPietro recently hosted a breakfast meeting with Superintendents, Board of Education members, and staff to discuss how to return control of our classrooms to our local teachers. While others seek to empower the Albany and Washington D.C. bureaucrats stifling classroom creativity, Assemblyman DiPietro is working with local leaders to turn the tide and continue to build on grassroots success. What we need is clear. We must put a stop to the Common Core curriculum and empower our teachers and local Boards of Education to do the jobs we've entrusted them to do.
